

A DESCRIPTION OF A PLACE

One of my favourite places

Soho is my favourite part of London. I like it because the narrow streets are always crowded with people who are shopping or going into restaurants or the trendy cafes. There are fashion designers and music companies there, which have made Soho a centre of creative activity. The buildings are not as luxurious or majestic as in other parts in London. However, Soho is a very colourful and really cosmopolitan place.

For many centuries, European immigrants have arrived and stayed in this neighbourhood and consequently, you can see their influence in the local shops and restaurants. They are a mirror of all these different styles and cultures. Many famous people in history have also lived in Soho for example Mozart and Karl Marx.

In summary, Soho is a fantastic place to visit, especially if you like being in the heart of the city.
